

Fill your stadium with faithful fans.

Touch 'em all by hosting a Safe At Home event with Scott Dawson.

Team up with Scott Dawson Evangelistic Association and the churches in your area to host one of our exciting Safe At Home events.

We'll bring an enthusiastic crowd together at your stadium for an enjoyable afternoon of baseball, music and a message from Scott Dawson.

Safe At Home with Scott Dawson partners the thrill of Minor League Baseball with the strength of the churches in your area. Together they produce a post game event that unites communities and changes lives.

Make a hit with your community.

Here's the pitch

By hosting a Safe At Home event at your ballpark, you make a significant contribution to the local outreach programs of your community while ensuring a large and enthusiastic crowd for one of your team's games.

Make a double play

Excitement and publicity for the event builds as pre-game preparation by church groups generate interest among their members who buy tickets for themselves and for a guest to bring along to the game. Churches pre-purchase bulk tickets and make them available to their congregations so churchgoers can invite a friend to attend the event with them.

Bring it on Home

After the game, everyone is invited to stay and enjoy a live concert by popular musicians and listen to motivational speakers including Scott Dawson. The evening culminates with an opportunity for everyone in the stadium to have a turning point in their lives. They are invited to come onto the field to pray with others and become connected to local churches.

Step up to the plate

This is a chance for you to knock one over the fence for your community and your team. The goodwill and publicity from hosting a Safe At Home event in your ballpark will be remembered long after the game is over, and the benefits to members of your community will last an eternity.
